

Who helps Just Jeans keep everything buttoned down?

When you're in a competitive industry with tight margins, you'd better be in control of your supply chain. That's why Just Jeans chose Retail Directions' Point of Sale System with Centralised Management Facilities. It will link every store, relaying sales information throughout the sourcing and distribution networks in near real time. The result: "Timely and reliable information that will help us understand demand trends, and respond more quickly to our customers' needs", says Just Jeans Managing Director, Howard McDonald.
